BIG ROUND-UP OF HUMAN BEASTS

Many Captured Near Forbidden Zone

A large number of human animals, both male and female, were captured today in a huge round-up organised by Marcus, Chief of the Simian Secret Police, and carried out by Gorilla guards.

The human beasts were attacked whilst pillaging one of our richest cornfield areas at the edge of the Forbidden Zone and were apparently taken completely by surprise.

The raid was one of the most successful in the recent history of our Ape civilisation and the terror aroused in the humans by our brave guards should act as a tremendous deterrent in the fight against the ravaging of our crops by this lowest and most primitive species on our planet.

The raid was planned after information was received from the elite Gorilla Scouting Corps, whose special responsibility is the control of the large bands of human animals known to be roaming the more remote but fertile areas to the North of the Capital foraging for food.

ATTACK AT DAWN

As the first of the sun's rays lightened the sky at dawn, fifty guards carrying rifles and clubs, some on foot but many on horseback, took up positions surrounding a large field of head-high corn skirting the Eastern edge of the Forbidden Zone in which more than a hundred human beasts were feeding.

As our guards swept down upon them, the humans fled in terror and, in their panic, ran straight into a further line of mounted guards drawn up on the far side of the field.

Acting on the orders of Police Chief Marcus to show no mercy, the Apes ruthlessly clubbed or shot to death any humans who offered resistance or tried to escape into the Forbidden Zone, although the primary purpose of the raid was the capture of both male and female human animals to be used as subjects for experiments by our scientists. Despite the number killed, many humans surrendered without a fight and were taken into captivity.

MAN IS A DANGER TO APE CIVILIZATION:- MUST BE EXTERMINATED — SAYS SCIENTIST

"Man — the human animal — is the most significant danger that our Ape civilisation has had to face in the last ten decades. The complete extermination of the species must be the primary concern of all those who hold dear the concepts and ideals of a planet where the Ape can live proudly, free from the spectre of famine brought about by the constant pillaging of our crops by the lowest of beasts — the human." This was the main message in a fighting speech delivered to young Simians at the National Academy last night by Doctor Zaius, Chief Minister of Science and Defender of the Faith.

FEMALE HUMAN SELECTED FOR GENETIC EXPERIMENTS

SIMIA, Friday.

Although many human animals were killed in this morning's raid, the main object — the capture of humans of both sexes for scientific experiments — must be considered a tremendous success. More than thirty of the beasts were made captive, many of them prime female specimens considered ideal for study by our scientists.

A number of professors and other learned Apes at the Ape National Academy have for some time been specialising in such experiments, aimed at increasing our present scant knowledge of the origin and evolution of this lowly species and to disprove, once and for all, the heretical theory that the Ape is descended from man.

Five wagons, held in readiness at the scene of the skirmish were brought up and loaded with captured humans for transportation to the Capital where specially-constructed cages were ready at the Academy of Ape Science.

CHOICE SPECIMEN

One of the choicest female specimens taken in the round-up was a young, dark-haired human of about 22 years. Obviously in vigorous health, she is, according to an Academy spokesman, an ideal specimen for new genetic experiments now being set up by Academy scientists.

This specimen has already been chosen as the subject for these new experiments. She will be caged in the special compound at the Academy where our scientists will be able to study her at close quarters.

It is hoped that the genetic experiments which will be carried out will open up a considerable area of new knowledge of the Ape's most destructive enemy.

Dr. Zaius

Brilliant Scientist Dr. Zaius Advocates Extermination of Humans

Young Simians were enthralled last night at the National Academy by an address by Dr. Zaius, Chief Minister of Science and Defender of the Faith. In a stirring speech advocating the complete extermination of the human animal, Dr. Zaius urged his young listeners to take their share of responsibility in clearing the planet of what he called "the greatest menace to our Ape civilisation in the last ten decades".

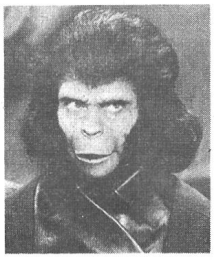
"Beware the beast man", said Dr. Zaius, "for he is the devil's pawn. Alone among God's primates he kills for greed. He will murder his brother to possess his brother's land.

"Let us prevent him breeding in great numbers, for he will make a desert of his home and of yours. Shun him. Drive him back into his jungle lair — or more appropriately, and this I urge with all my ape instincts, exterminate him completely, for he is the harbinger of death."

In concluding his address amid rousing cheers, Dr. Zaius said that it was the duty of every section of Simian society to take part in the fight to rid our planet of the human species.

Two Accused at Tribunal

Heresy Trial Opens



Dr. Zira

Dr. Cornelius

The trial for heresy of two young scientists from the Academy was opened today before the Tribunal of the Ape Nation.

The accused were Dr. Zira and Dr. Cornelius, indicted on several counts of heresy and violation of Ape Law and the teachings of the Sacred Scrolls by what the prosecution described as "insane attempts to cast doubts on our ancient laws and teachings by issuing what they purported to be evidence that the human animal is an intelligent creature".

The Tribunal consisted of the President; Doctor Zaius, Minister of Science and Chief Defender of the Faith and Doctor Maximus, Commissioner of Animal Affairs.

Doctor Honorius, Deputy Minister of Justice, appeared for the State. The defendants conducted their own case.

There was a moment of high drama at the opening session when a human animal was brought into court by the accused for examination by the Tribunal. The Bailiff was severely admonished by the President for failing in his duty to clean up the human beast before it was brought to court.

In expressing his severe displeasure, the President stated that the stench given off by the man was offensive to the dignity of the Tribunal.

There was lengthy legal argument as to the disposal of the human animal concerned and the two accused scientists attempted to advance reasons as to why he should not be given the treatment normally meted out to human captives.

Dr. Honorius: "This exhibit is indeed a man. Therefore he has no rights under Ape Law. He is not being tried. The point at issue is merely the method and manner of his disposal."

In opening the case against the two defendants, Doctor Honorius said that it was scientific heresy that was in fact on trial. The State's case was based on the first Article of Faith — that the Almighty created the Ape in his own image; that he gave him a soul and a mind; that he set him aside from the beasts of the jungle and made him Lord of the Planet. The proper study for Apes was Apes.

"But these young cynics", he said, indicating the defendants, "have chosen to study man. They are perverted scientists who advance an insidious theory called evolution."

The Prosecutor said that the State charged that Doctor Zira and a corrupt surgeon named Galen had experimented on the wounded man-animal, tampering with his brain and throat tissues to produce a speaking monster.

"With the Tribunal's permission, I will expose this hoax by direct examination of the human beast", said Doctor Honorius.

The hearing continues tomorrow. After the Tribunal had risen, the human was taken back to his specially strengthened cage in the grounds of the Academy.

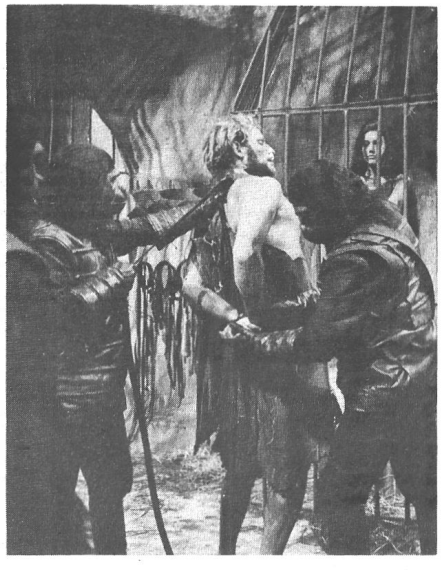
Official Denial of 'Man Invasion' Rumors

An official denial was given today by Zarka, Chief Government spokesman, of the rumour that an invasion of Ape cities by human animals was imminent.

"There is not the slightest foundation of truth in these rumours", said Zarka, "and they have obviously been spread by Apes dissatisfied with the present regime, in a cunning attempt to create unease and a feeling of unrest in our Simian society."

Despite the Government spokesman's statement, our political correspondent does not entirely share the apparent unconcern of our rulers. The rumours have been increasingly persistent in the last few weeks and were brought into the open after the latest round-up of humans near the Forbidden Zone. Observers on the spot claim that there was a significant stiffening of resistance by the man-animals, and that there were even signs of intelligent and organised resistance to the Gorilla guards by a small core of humans.

"The reports that a small group of men with an intelligence almost equal to that of the Ape have landed in a hitherto unknown type of air vehicle, and are preparing their fellow beasts for an attack on our civilisation, cannot be dismissed so lightly", claim several Ape intellectuals who have made a special study of the position.



One of the human beasts captured this morning is taken to the cages at the Academy of Ape Science.

WEATHER LATEST

The outlook for tomorrow is gloomy, particularly in the Northern Plains where unbroken rain is expected. Nearer the Capital lighter showers may be interspersed with bright spells.

The prospect for the rest of the week is a little brighter, particularly if the prevailing East Wind holds from the Forbidden Zone when we may get rather higher temperatures.

DAMAGE BY MAN INCREASED IN LAST TEN YEARS

Statistics issued today by the National Academy show that over the last ten years the damage caused by the human animals' unceasing quest for food has increased more than four hundred per cent. "If the present rate continues", said Doctor Zaius, reviewing the figures, "the Ape nation will find itself in a position where famine will be a very real danger. It is essential, in the interests of Simian survival, that the numbers of humans be drastically reduced. They breed too quickly, denude the jungles of food, migrate to the green belts and ravage the Simian crops."

The committee members were asked for suggestions to rid our society of this growing menace and reduce these startling figures.

"Intelligent Human" Claim Dismissed as "Nonsense"

Young scientists, some even employed at the Academy of Ape Science, have for some time been propounding the astounding theory that certain human animals possess some measure of intelligence. The more precocious have even gone so far as to suggest that a small number of the human beasts may possess a standard of reasoning almost as highly developed as that of the Ape.

This absurd theory, which this newspaper believes is a heresy against the Ape Law and the writings of the Sacred Scrolls, has been advanced defiantly and with amazing bravado particularly by two young scientists, Dr. Zira and Dr. Cornelius. The couple claim that several discoveries at the scene of archaeological excavations to the West of the Forbidden Zone tend to prove that there was some significant human civilisation in existence on this planet more than two thousand years ago.

It is alleged that Zira and Cornelius have manufactured "evidence" to support their claims in reports to their superiors at the Academy on their studies of a particular human beast recently captured. The reports state that the man is able to make himself understood to the scientists by an intelligent form of sign language and even express the opinion that the beast may have been able to speak at one time. It is significant that the man-animal's ability to communicate by sound cannot be tested as he was wounded in the throat by Gorilla guards at the time of his capture.

"Many will think the so-called throat wound is a convenient excuse to prevent the immediate debunking of these ridiculous claims. To suggest that we can learn anything about the Simian nature from a study of man is sheer nonsense", stated a leading member of the Academy in an exclusive interview this morning.

The official declined to comment further on the grounds that the two scientists mainly concerned were at present appearing before the National Tribunal on charges of heresy arising from their continuing to maintain these views after repeated warnings from the Academy Council that they were dangerous, subversive and against Ape Law. The matter was, therefore, sub judice.

MAN RECAPTURED AFTER DARING ESCAPE

Ape Guards Overpower Crazed Human Animal

By our Special Correspondent.

Medals for Gorillas who helped in Recapture

It was learned later today that the Government will be awarding the Simian Star, the highest decoration for Ape valour, to several of the Gorilla guards who assisted in recapturing the human beast.

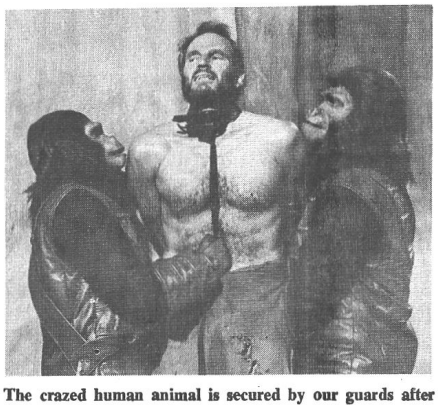
A human beast, captured recently by Gorilla Scouts near the Eastern Desert and confined in the animal cages in the compound of the Academy of Ape Science, escaped at mid-day today after savagely attacking and almost choking his guard. The man was at liberty for almost an hour before being overpowered and recaptured.

The human, a remarkably sturdy specimen, ran into the main part of the city and terrorized several ape women in the main square.

Although the alarm was raised almost at once, it took about 55 minutes to recapture the creature whose obviously crazed condition gave him tremendous added strength. Several attempts to apprehend him by foot guards were made, but mounted guards, armed with whips and clubs were eventually called in.

The human's flight took him among the stalls at the open air vegetable market where he was almost cornered, but grabbing a pole from one of the stalls to use as a weapon, he severely injured several guards before escaping again amid the confusion caused when he overturned a number of the stalls.

At one stage in his bid for freedom, the man hid in the Simian Museum, dodging and hiding among the exhibits of stuffed and mounted human men, women and children.



The crazed human animal is secured by our guards after his capture.

Driven from his refuge, the beast injured more guards and escaped again when enmeshed in man-nets thrown over him by the courageous pursuers. He was eventually held by a mounted Gorilla guard who secured him with a whip lariat until the arrival of colleagues who assisted in holding the man down.

The human was strung on a pole carried by two Gorillas and taken back to the cages under heavy guard.

It was later learned that more than a dozen guards were injured in the incident. The condition of the five who were detained at the Ape Hospital was described as "as well as can be expected considering the nature of their injuries".
